The Magician's Nephew

By C.S. Lewis

Published by Harper Collins Publishers

I saw the movie, "The Lion the Witch and the Wardrobe" which is based on the second book in the series The Chronicles of Narnia. I enjoyed the movie, then I wanted to see how the series began.

It begins with Digory and his friend Polly who lives in London, England. They both run into Digory's Uncle Andrew. Uncle Andrew tricks Polly by offering her a magic ring. Polly vanishes and Digory puts on the magic ring to find her. The magic ring teleports the children into a place called The Wood. In The Wood there are many pools which lead into different worlds. The first world they enter is called Charn. They then go into Charn and they meet Charn's queen, whose name is Jadis. Jadis tricks Digory and Polly into taking her back to London where she takes Uncle Andrew prisoner.

When trying to get back into Charn, they go into a world with absolutely nothing. A lion named Aslan begins to sing a song and the world of nothing begins to change into the amazing world of Narnia.

I enjoyed this book because there are many adventures. The best part is finding out how Narnia comes to exist.
